Business Resources

Q: How will UDOT keep businesses aware of upcoming construction activities?

A: Knowing about what's ahead on the construction horizon can help businesses reduce the negative impacts of construction. UDOT will keep business owners and other community representatives updated during construction by organizing a Community Coordination Team (CCT).

The CCT will:

- Meet regularly with UDOT and the contractor to discuss project progress
- Help administer a performance based financial incentive to the contractor

The CCT will be organized according to an "area captain" format. Captains will be responsible for maintaining contact with other business owners and bringing issues to CCT meetings.

CCT meetings are expected to begin when construction begins, and will continue through project completion.

Q. How will UDOT help businesses understand and prepare for construction?

A. UDOT has developed the "Partners for the Road Ahead" resource guide to help business owners promote products and services during construction. The guide can be accessed online at www.udot.utah.gov/business-guide.

Q. What other business resources are available?

ChamberWest has organized a Hard Hat Club to assist the 3500 South area business community and its customers during construction. For more information call 801-977-8755 or see www.hardhatclub.info
